Oliver H. deLaMorton: Inventor or schemer?

By JOANNE ANDERSON
Correspondent

One of the more colorful characters whose stories are spread across the pages of local history is Oliver Herman deLaMorton (1848-1918).

Known as "the inventor" and "the professor," he lived the last eight years of his life in Jackson County inspiring controversy and winning some acclaim for himself. Historian Ray L. Bellande of Ocean Springs has contributed a substantive and well-documented article on deLaMorton's life to the soon-to-be-published "Journal 24" of the Jackson County Genealogical and Historical Society.

In Bellande's quest to unravel the rich life of deLaMorton, he established communications with Robert F. deLaMorton, a great-grandson of O.H. deLaMorton, who provided deLaMorton family biographies, genealogy and photographs.

Bellande learned that Oliver Herman deLaMorton was born Albert Edgar Napoleon Thomas Samuel Berridge and clarified the spelling of "deLaMorton," which shows up in local history in several different ways.

"In February 1911, just east of this development, O.H. deLaMorton bought 141 acres in the SW/4 of Section 28, T7S-R5W from John H. Turner. He conveyed the parcel to F.H. Lewis on February 2, 1911. Possibly the first well bore searching for petroleum and natural gas in Jackson County, Mississippi, would occur on this tract in the coming months.

"In mid-February shortly after deLaMorton bought the Turner tract, F.H. Lewis held a meeting at courthouse and formed a temporary organization which would later become known as the Pascagoula Development Corp. Its purpose was to operate, explore and mine oil, gas, salt, sulphur and other minerals. The Pascagoula Development corporation was incorporated on March 6, 1911, with a capitalization $15,000. This was increased to $30,000 in May, 1911. The incorporators were: F.H. Lewis, J.W. Zink, O.H. deLaMorton, R.P. Linfield, H. Herring, R.A. Farnsworth, S.H. Bugge, J.J. Clark, and George R. Thompson.

Frank Lewis sold the drill site (Turner tract) to the Pascagoula Development Corporation in June 1911." The oil well ultimately did produce a supply of gas, but very little oil, according to the article, which goes on to describe other deLaMorton exploits, and an intriguing story of deLaMorton's childhood and young manhood.

The entire article is rich in biography and genealogy and fills in details on this enigmatic man.

A 12-acre reservation for the deLaMortons was created in the northeast corner of the tract. Professor deLaMorton built a home here in November 1911. It was described as two-story, quite large and made an attractive appearance.

Today, this area is bounded by Bayou Cumbest Road, Kreole Avenue, and Mill Avenue.

TRUCK AND FRUIT FREIGHT WILL RAISE

Express Companies' Charges,
However, Likely To Be Reduced and Offset Bad Effect.

An increase in freight rates on fruit and vegetables, effective April 15 on all railroads in Texas, Louisiana, Mississippi and Alabama, has been published, which will materially increase cost of transportation from this territory to St. Louis, Chicago, Pittsburgh, Kansas City and all other points in their respective territories. These rates, according to Traffic Manager Cobb of the Chamber of Commerce, will be advances of at least 30 per cent. They are especially applicable to Mobile and Baldwin counties and all other points in this immediate section. The increase, however, takes in all points from Brownsville, Texas, to Westport, Florida.

As an offset to this increase in the freight rates, said Mr. Cobb, the express companies have taken up a proposition with the Interstate Commerce Commission which, if it goes through and it looks to do so, will put Mobile and Baldwin county in line with New Orleans and Louisiana points and which will mean a material reduction in express rates to the cities and other points adjacent thereto.—Mobile Register.

Notice of Special Election.

Pursuant to an order of the Board of Supervisors of Jackson County, Mississippi, entered at the March term, 1910, of said Board, the undersigned Commissioners of election of Jackson County, Mississippi, will cause to be held on TUESDAY, MAY 9th, 1910, a special election at the several voting precincts of Jackson County, for the purpose of submitting to the qualified electors of said county the question of whether or not they will vote to authorize the Board of Supervisors of said Jackson County to issue the bonds of said county in the sum of $50,000 for the purpose of constructing a public highway from Pascagoula River in the City of Pascagoula to the west bank of West Pascagoula River.

NOTICE TO LAND OWNERS

Some days ago we announced that we were undertaking to secure leases in this vicinity from owners of land, with a view to developing same for oil and gas. We are pleased to say that our progress thus far has been fairly satisfactory. Professor de Lamorton has secured several leases and the prospects are very promising at this time. However, we would appreciate it if more land owners would see Professor de Lamorton and not make it necessary for him to call on them, as he is giving his time to this work, without expense to us or to property holders in this section.

We desire to push this matter to conclusion as rapidly as possible, as it will have some bearing on our plans for developing other properties which we own in Oklahoma and Texas. This movement should be of great interest to all citizens of this locality and we believe all should take an active part in the matter. We would like very much to interest everyone possible, not only in our plans for development in this section, but in our other properties also—and thereby cement all interests.

We believe the prospects for oil or gas here are excellent.

See Professor de Lamorton and talk the matter over.

Tea Grown in Jackson County

We have had the pleasure recently of drinking a cup of Chinese tea that was grown in Jackson county, and the quality of it was as good as some of the best green tea brought to this country from China and Japan, and better than a great deal of cheap teas that is sold to us.

This tea was grown on the place of Prof. O. H. de Lamorton, five miles east of Pascagoula. Mr. de Lamorton has been experimenting with tea for the past four years, and he is confident that tea can be grown profitably here on the Gulf Coast. He says he has traveled in China, Ceylon and Japan, and has seen the tea farms of these countries. He observed the manner of cultivating same, peculiarities of the soil, etc., and that we have all the elements of success in tea culture right here on the Gulf Coast.

The sample of tea that Mr. de Lamorton brought us was sufficient to make several cups of tea, was of pure green tea, without any artificial coloring or flavoring, and made a cup of tea of excellent strength and flavor. The tree from which it was picked is four years old and will this year produce about five pounds of first-class green tea, and it is now full of buds that will soon blossom out into pretty white rose like flowers, making the tree very beautiful, in addition to its usefulness. The trees begin to leaf the second year, sufficient to be picked to a limited extent, and by the time they are five years old are in full leaf can be picked once a month, during the light of the moon.

Mr. de Lamorton says he intends to plant several acres of tea trees, and is confident of the ultimate success of his scheme. That tea can be grown here as well as in China, he has no doubt, and he sees great commercial possibilities in the culture, and when we stop to consider that there are millions of pounds of tea imported into this country, and that good tea sells all the way from fifty cents to one dollar a pound, it is a matter that is worth considering by our agriculturists.

Miss Katherine Donahue has returned to Mobile after a delightful visit to Pascagoula, and was accompanied home by Miss Rita Johnson, who is her guest, says the Mobile Register.

A big car load of happy young and old folks came down from Moss Point last Friday night, and enjoyed a moonlight picnic on the beach. We understand it was the Baptist Sunday School of that city.

Miss Annie Havens, of Vancleave, was in the city shopping on last Saturday.

Mrs. Josephine Ames Santa Cruz, who has spent the summer here at her pretty beach home, and whose several visitors have made the social atmosphere of the beach livelier on account of their presence, left last week for her home in New Orleans.

The dredge Charleston has been hauled up on the ways at the Government dock, and is being thoroughly overhauled and repaired. The Charleston has been for the year or so at work at different Texas ports, but was recently transferred to Mobile, whence she came.

There will be services at the Baptist church Sunday morning and evening. The subject for the morning hour will be, "Divine Glory from Human Temples," and at the evening hour, "Fruits Meet for Repentance." All given a most cordial invitation to worship with us.

Miss Clarke, who has been spending the summer at Irving Place, in South Pascagoula street, left Wednesday for her home in Meridian, Miss. She was accompanied by her two little nieces, Misses Delphine and Bernice Delacroix. Miss Clarke says she has spent a very delightful summer, and may return to Irving Place in November.

The Biloxi firemen are going to have a grand parade next Monday, the 20th inst., and congressman Pat Harrison is to be the grand marshal of the day. He has named as his aides who will ride with him at the head of the parade a number of representative citizens of the coast cities. W. H. Westfall, L. E. Cox, Frank H. Lewis, Frank B. Castenera and W. H. Wood are named from Pascagoula.

On Monday, September 12, Miss Harris will entertain at an Agnes Scott luncheon at her Government street home at 1 p. m., the guests to be all Agnes Scott girls, including two new ones, Misses Dorothy Mitchell and Madeline Maury, who will leave with Miss Gladys Gaines for Agnes Scott College Tuesday night. Another favored guest will be a visiting Agnes Scott girl, Miss Frances Kell of Pascagoula, who is visiting Miss Elta Mayers. Mobile Register.

Professor de Lamorton believed in the future of this port and was tireless in his endeavors to do something for its advancement. Perhaps, if the secrets of his innermost soul were known, one of his chief regrets at leaving this world was his inability to live to see Pascagoula and Jackson county come into the fulness of that development that he was sure was ours in store. Let us hope that his immortal spirit, as it enjoys the rest and happiness that his life of usefulness deserves, may yet see from its spirit world fulfillment of his dreams as to this section that he loved, thus adding, if such a thing is possible, something to his enjoyment in

Prof. O. H. de Lamorton Passes Away
at Home in Kreole After Months of Illness.

Prof. O. H. de Lamorton, for many years a leading figure in every enterprise and undertaking for the development of the port of Pascagoula and Jackson county, passed quietly away at his home at Kreole, Tuesday, June 4th, at 11:15 p. m., after an illness of many months, aged 69 years 7 months and 8 days. The funeral will take place Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock from the church at Kreole, interment at Machpelah cemetery. He was a member of the Masons, Elks, Odd Fellows, and other fraternal organizations, and the body will be buried with Masonic honors.

Prof. de Lamorton was born in Paris, France, Nov. 26, 1848. His parents moved to London when he was quite small. His mother was an English lady and was a relation of Queen Victoria. When he was quite a young man he graduated from London, Paris, Berlin and Vienna schools of geology and mineralogy and spent several years in practical work in the Baku fields of Russia and various other oil fields in the different parts of the world.

He came to this country when still a young man, living for several years in Canada, where he was a close personal friend of Sir John McDonald, being in the service of the Dominion while Sir John was premier of Canada. He received the highest awards from the Canadian government for his garment cutting inventions. Leaving Canada he came to the U. S. about 1890 and established various schools of garment cutting, in nearly every State in the union, and also in Mexico. He was an inventor of rare ability, having over 2800 inventions which were being sold under many flags at the time the present war broke out.

In 1892 he married Miss Louise Betz, and has one son, Frederic O.

at rest when Chairman Jane received news that Mr. H. M. K. Smith, assistant State chairman, would be here Sunday afternoon to make the presentation of the flag.

The lawn in front and to the side of the courthouse was the place of the flag presentation, and it was a scene of inspiration, one long to be remembered by those who took part in the exercises. The courthouse yard and the streets around were filled an audience of more than a thousand persons from different sections of the county. Many ladies were present in Red Cross regalia, and a number of soldiers in uniform gave a military touch to the scene. A platform had been erected just east of the courthouse, and this, as well as front of the courthouse and surroundings were decorated with the National and Red Cross colors and emblems.

Hon. C. H. Wood of Moss Point presided at the meeting, which was opened by a prayer by Rev. D. W. Bosdell. Judge Wood then explained the object of the gathering, after which a choir of Red Cross ladies sang "America," which was joined in by the entire gathering. Judge Wood in a short address introduced the speaker of the afternoon, Mr. H. M. K. Smith, assistant State chairman of the Red Cross, who represented Mr. Kinnington, State chairman, in the deliver of the flag. Mr. Smith is from New York City, is a member of the Roosevelt Hospital Unit of the Red Cross, and has spent several years in France doing Red Cross work right in the trenches. It was here that the audience received a surprise. With a voice vibrant with emotion, showing that he felt from his heart the words that he uttered, Mr. Smith held the crowd spell bound for more than an hour in one of the most earnest and stirring talks that has ever been delivered from a rostrum in this city. His words fairly burned themselves into the souls of his hearers. Dramatic, intense, and yet with language so simple that a child could understand, he spoke words of fervor and conviction that brought tears from the of garment cutting, in nearly every State in the union, and also in Mexico. He was an inventor of rare ability, having over 2800 inventions which were being sold under many flags at the time the present war broke out.

In 1892 he married Miss Louise Betz, of which union one son, Frederic O. de Lamorton was born, who is now serving in the navy of his country in the capacity of wireless operator and chief electrician of the Naval Radio Station, located at Tampa, Fla.

In 1901 he was married to Miss Nellie E. Larimore, in Galveston, Texas, who survives him. In 1910 he moved to Jackson county, Mississippi, and has since made this his home, being greatly interested with the possibilities of this section of the country, and is the pioneer oil man of Jackson county, as well as in many of the best known fields of this country. He has been actively engaged in every progressive movement of this section, and was one of the first to promote the location of the great ship-building industries at this port.

He was stricken with the fatal malady of cancer of the stomach in July, 1917, and from then until his death he suffered untold agonies, but in spite of his sufferings he never gave up his interest in the development of the port and the entire Gulf coast section. Before his death he made all arrangements for his funeral to the minutest detail, and was ready and anxious to pass to the Great Beyond.

His generosity was unbounded, his friendship strong and unwavering; his sense of honor exalted and his patriotism of the fiery Southern type. In strength of purpose and determination to accomplish, Prof. O. H. de LaMorton had few equals. This entire section feels that in his going it has sustained a great loss, and the sympathy of all goes out to the wife and son who survive him.

livered from a rostrum in this city. His words fairly burned themselves into the souls of his hearers. Dramatic, intense, and yet with language so simple that a child could understand, he spoke words of fervor and conviction that brought tears from the eyes of all present. It had a deeply religious trend, in fact, a better sermon could not have been delivered from the pulpit. The speaker at times was enthusiastically applauded, and again there was no applause, only deep silence and bowed heads as his words sank into the hearts of his hearers. He pictured many of the horrors of the war as he had seen them, the sweet mercy of the Red Cross nurses, the splendid work the organization was doing in Europe, the valiant struggle the Allies were making to "hold the line" until our forces could get there, the necessity of our people doing all they could to speed up the war, the dangers to this fair land of "Hun" domination, the bravery and splendid appearance of our "Sammys," the patriotism and self-sacrifice of our noble women. He thanked the citizens of Pascagoula and Jackson county for their splendid contribution to the Red Cross, giving due credit to each and every agency that helped to make the drive a success.

At the conclusion of his address the flag was presented to the county, Mr. H. P. Heidelberg receiving same and thanking Mr. Smith and the State chairman in a short but appropriate address. The flag is a large white silk flag with gold fringe, bearing in its centre the blazing cross of that world organization, the American Red Cross. It was taken in hand tenderly by two soldiers and carried to the flag staff where it was raised, with "Old Glory" by the Chairmen of the three committees of the county, Messrs. Jane, Herring and Glasscock. Then the choir and audience, with bowed and uncovered heads sang "The Star Spangled Banner," and after a benediction by Mr. Bosdell, the audience was dismissed, thus ending one of the most notable occasions in the Red Cross history of this city.

MARGY SOUTHWELL CO.

The Margy Southwell Dramatic Company playing at Beach Park this week has proved itself worthy of large patronage. In "Tess of the Storm Country," which played Monday and Tuesday nights, talent was everywhere in evidence. Especially are to be commended Tess, whose truly childish mimics brought forth many a laugh, and the cruel, relentless squire whose characterization had few defects. The vaudeville between the acts of the drama received much applause.

The Beach Park Theatre is favorably situated and should be given the support of all those persons of Moss Point and Pascagoula wishing to witness clean drama and spend a cool evening on the beach as well.

Friday and Saturday nights, the Margy Southwell Co. will produce "The Heart of Colorado."

Card of Thanks.

Krenle, Miss June 12 1918.

We take this opportunity of extending our heartfelt thanks to all those friends and neighbors who were so kind and sympathetic during the prolonged illness and recent death of our beloved husband and father.

Especial thanks are extended the Masonic Fraternity for their sympathy and for honors bestowed in performing the last sad rites over our beloved dead.

Assuring one and all that their kindness and sympathy of both word and deed will always be kindly remembered, and trusting that you nor any of your loved ones will ever have to suffer the terrible agonies of a "cancer" death, we are

Respectfully,

Mrs O. H. de LAMORTON & Son.
